

Ragtime Girl

Composed by: Jim Andris © 2002

Dedicated to the Ragtime Rascals: Queen Rosanda, Colleen, Judy, Lynn and Mary

$\text{♩} = 60$

Five love - ly la - dies sit - ting in a row, All dressed up, and wait - ing for an - One home - ly fel - low, sit - ting at the keys, All dressed up, and look - ing for some - oth - er show. And these love - ly la - dies have one to please. And this home - ly fel - low has wait - ed for so long For some guy to sing them all a wait - ed for so long Just to sing these pret - ty girls this rag - time song. So though I may have prom - ised them the rag - time song. And though they some - times treat me rath - er moon, I'm simp - ly going to sing this tune.

bad, They're still the great - est friends I've had.

Ragtime Girl

Rag-time girl Love-ly pearl, You're al-ways sit-ting in a cor-ner of my Rag-time friend, to the end, we sure ap-pre-ci-ate that Jop-lin is the room. You could go dance to-night, or hold some - (b) bod - y tight. And yet you're King. We like the sym-phon - y, and El - vis sets us free. But still we smile is right here, light-ing up the gloom. Rag-time gal, know that syn-co-pa-tion is the thing that keeps us danc-ing. Rag-time Queen, spe-cial pal, you're not a lone-some gal, like some folks would as - sume. You just are in be-tween the songs we sing we're gon-na laugh and have some wine, And tho the Jim-mie's Rag-time Ras-cal out to have some fun. And we are going to have some fun real soon.

 world out-side cand send us all some lou-sy curves, We know that in here things are all just fine.